

Your task is to do a brief analysis of the Romantic-era poem that you selected from the box. You must do all of the following:

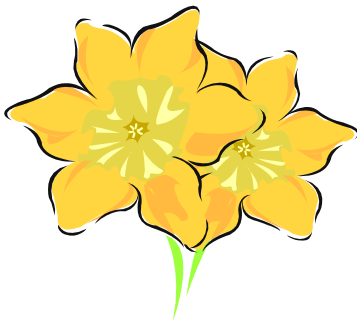

1. Provide brief biographical information on your poet from Wikipedia.
2. Analyze a symbol from the poem.
3. Determine a Romantic ideal presented in the poem.
4. Discuss how that Romantic ideal might pertain to Mary Shelley's Frankenstein.
5. Create a visual of some aspect of your poem.

How to Cite Wikipedia:

"Mary Shelley." Wikipedia. November 2010. Wikimedia Foundation, Inc.. 22 November 2010.
<http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Mary_Shelley>.

1. Name of article
2. Name of encyclopedia (in this case Wikipedia)
3. Date of last modification to page (look at the bottom of the entry)
4. Publisher (in this case Wikimedia Foundation, Inc.)
5. Date that you accessed the article.
6. Web address in slanted brackets.

A special note to English 9 Honors students: What I am asking you to do is very advanced, but I know that you can do it. Please trust yourselves. I want to know what you think about symbols and connections, not what somebody on the InterWeb thinks. You will be graded just as much on effort and following directions as you will be on analysis. For students who are feeling a bit more confident with this assignment, you have my permission to run with it. For instance, you can do multiple symbols and multiple connections if you please. Extra credit will be awarded for extra-ordinary work! Good luck.

Project length: minimum of 4 typed paragraphs.

Due date: Monday, December 6, 2010

Notes: neatness and creativity count. No switching poems or poets.
