

Seven of the following sentences contain nonessential clauses; write and properly punctuate these sentences. Three sentences are correct as they are written; write C after the proper number on your paper. Cut and glue this assignment into your grammar spiral.

1. The Far Side which is my favorite comic strip makes me think as well as laugh.
2. Our math teacher who also teaches gym will leave at the end of the year.
3. The amusement rides that are most exciting may be the most dangerous.
4. My grandfather who likes to work on old cars just bought a 1960 convertible.
5. People who carry credit cards should keep a record of their account numbers at home.
6. Jo Bob Blankenship who is class president plans to go to Yale.
7. A town like Cottonwood which has a population of five thousand seems ideal to me.
8. All dogs that pass this obedience test will get a reward.
9. Creosote which is made from coal tar is one of the chemicals that may cause cancer.
10. In "The Gift of the Magi" which is a very beautiful short story the two main characters who are deeply in love make sacrifices in order to buy gifts for each other.