

Thank You Letter Assignment due on Monday, February 4, 2013

Your assignment is to write a letter to the DonorsChoose benefactor who bought us the Erik Larson books for our non-fiction book project.

Requirements:

Length of Letter-approximately $\frac{3}{4}$ of a page, single-spaced, and typed.

Content-thank the donor for supporting education in general and our classroom in particular

Donor's Name- Mrs. Golkin

Be sure to include examples of what you learned from the book. Your examples should touch on both content and writing style. You may decorate your letter with drawings if you wish. Please keep in mind that your thank you note is about more than just this project. Public schools are currently experiencing significant fiscal issues. I count on donors every single year to help me bring awesome learning experiences to the classroom. Please be sincere in your writing. Please be a good speller too. You will sign the letter with your first name only.

Thank You Letter Assignment due on Monday, February 4, 2013

Your assignment is to write a letter to the DonorsChoose benefactor who bought us the Erik Larson books for our non-fiction book project.

Requirements:

Length of Letter-approximately $\frac{3}{4}$ of a page, single-spaced, and typed.

Content-thank the donor for supporting education in general and our classroom in particular

Donor's Name- Mrs. Golkin

Be sure to include examples of what you learned from the book. Your examples should touch on both content and writing style. You may decorate your letter with drawings if you wish. Please keep in mind that your thank you note is about more than just this project. Public schools are currently experiencing significant fiscal issues. I count on donors every single year to help me bring awesome learning experiences to the classroom. Please be sincere in your writing. Please be a good speller too. You will sign the letter with your first name only.

