

Rules Are For Somebody Else...NOT ME!

One of Orwell's themes in Animal Farm is the tendency of humans to create classes. These classes are often made official through the establishment of laws that favor one class over another. Today, you are the lawmaker.

Your task: Turn to pages ____ to ____ in your student handbook and pick out two rules. Rewrite those rules so that they clearly favor one group and exclude another.

Rules Are For Somebody Else...NOT ME!

One of Orwell's theme's in Animal Farm is the tendency of humans to create classes. These classes are often made official through the establishment of laws that favor one class over another. Today, you are the lawmaker.

Your task: Turn to pages ____ to ____ in your student handbook and pick out two rules. Rewrite those rules so that they clearly favor one group and exclude another.

