

AP English Language and Composition

Your homework this weekend is not only to read the assigned chapters in Hawthorne's The Scarlet Letter, but also to "tweet" the first 18 chapters of the book. Think of this as a review.

Requirements:

1. Tweet from the point of view of a particular character for each chapter. Make your selection clear.
2. Combine plot and literary device for each tweet.
3. A tweet can only be 140 characters. That's not letters; that's characters.
4. Be creative, neat, accurate and loyal to the book.
5. This assignment is worth 25 points so put some effort into it.
6. You may present your tweets in whatever format that suits you.
7. Pictures and other loveliness are encouraged.
8. You will be graded on creativity, neatness, accuracy and completeness.
