

Subject and Verb Imperatives

An imperative sentence gives a command or makes a request.

Imperative sentences always have an understood, but not stated, “you,” as the subject.

Ex. Hand it in now.

(You) hand it in now.

Find the subject and verb in the following sentences.

- 1. Give me the cheese!
- 2. Help me please.
- 3. Lock the car door.