

It's that time again—an artsy assignment for English class. Markus Zusak uses powerful imagery to convey emotions and situations in The Book Thief. Let's see if we can bring his pages to life on our back wall. Please pick one amazing quote from The Book Thief and give it wings. Show us what you see.

Requirements:

- Due on Friday, February 22 (How weird. That's the same day that your whitewashed pages are due. I wonder if these assignments are related.)
- Include the quote and page number on the picture.
- Write a paragraph that explains what you did, why you did it, and what you think Zusak is trying to convey. (Use the Zusak paragraph format that we did in class.)
- Use whatever medium you wish.
- You can pluck your quote from anywhere in the text.
- Points: 10 for the art; 10 for the paragraph
